

Peter Berrington

Our persona is a relative of a person with dementia, and about 40 years old. He has a job, a wife, and children himself. But he simultaneously has to take care of his mother with dementia (see Helen).

He likes to visit his mother when he can, but knowing that she is okay is something he would like to know also when he is not with her.

He needs an opportunity to make sure Helen is safe and okay as long as he is away. Accessible information about Helen's well being are important. So that, if something happens, Peter can help. Simple design and time saving functions are required.
